

Tap Diaphragm to enable contraceptive.

Diaphragm mode allows you to use your iPhone as a contraceptive. It blocks the cervix, preventing sperm from entering the uterus. Diaphragm mode is perfect for anyone that loves sex and portable media, but doesn't want a child ruining their tech-savvy lifestyle.

Using iPhone as a Diaphragm

Tap the Diaphragm button to enter Diaphragm Mode. Before inserting into the vagina, cover the iPhone in spermicide to further reduce the chance of pregnancy (Apple brand iSpermicide available at Apple Stores and authorized retailers). Once iSpermicide has been applied insert the iPhone high into the vagina so it creates a solid seal with the cervix. After intercourse, leave the iPhone in for at least 6 hours but no more than 24 hours (Leaving the iPhone in the vagina for prolonged periods may result in strong odors, vaginal discharge, and loss of battery power). To remove iPhone, insert two fingers into the vagina and grip it tightly. Twist iPhone to a vertical position and pull it out. Following removal, wash, rinse, and dry iPhone.

Note - If you are uncomfortable inserting iPhone into your vagina, visit the Apple Store Genius Bar for assistance.

Receiving Calls While in Diaphragm Mode

While using the iDiaphragm you can be sure you won't miss any calls.

When a call is received during intercourse, it will ring as normal. Tighten your abdomen to answer - iPhone will automatically switch to speaker phone. Talk directly into the vagina for best results.

Using iPhone to Stimulate the G-Spot.

iPhone is the first cell phone to provide direct stimulation to the G-Spot

In the Diaphragm "Options" menu turn "Vibration" on and set "Intensity" to desired level. You may also choose "Music Sync" to get off to music from your favorite artist.

Note - Visit the iTunes music store to find celebrity playlists and your iVagina could be rocking to the same beat as Madonna's!
